MANY OF YOU, FOR VARIOUS REASONS, HAVE FAILED TO KEEP A SCRAPBOOK DURING YOUR YEARS AT WARD-BELMONT. NOW THAT THESE HAPPY DAYS ARE OVER, SOME OF YOU WILL FEEL
JUST A LITTLE PANG OF REGRET THAT YOU HAVE NO SOUVENIRS TO REFLECT UPON IN LATER YEARS TO KEEP THE JOYS OF THESE UNFORGETTABLE YEARS FRESH IN YOUR MIND. IT IS FOR THIS REASON THAT WE HAVE TRIED TO PRESERVE FOR YOU, IN THIS ONE SMALL VOLUME, ALL THE THINGS YOU WOULD HAVE KEPT
IN YOUR OWN BOOK. THIS IS THE SCRAPBOOK YOU NEVER HAD TIME TO KEEP. THIS IS YOUR SCRAPBOOK OF MEMORIES.

Foreword

MISS MARGARET NEWHALL

DEDICATION

Quiet efficiency, capable influence, and gracious charm are the particular qualities of our Miss Margaret Newhall, one of Ward-Belmont's most valuable and helpful personalities. Her unassuming way has endeared her to every member of the student body, faculty and staff. In her position as librarian of Ward-Belmont she has had unlimited contacts with every student on campus, who will remember her as the perfect combination of Ward-Belmont ideals.

Perhaps those who have had a greater opportunity to realize and appreciate her magnetic personality and subtle graciousness are the members of the T. C. Club, which she has sponsored for several years. Besides her duties as librarian and club sponsor, she has assumed responsibility for various classes of the college division, and is the President of the American Association of University Women in Nashville. All of these organizations and groups have been strengthened and enlarged because of her contributions.

Many little things make up her intangible greatness . . . her amazing ability to remember the exact position of each book in the library, her little gray Mercury parked in "its" place in the circle, and her sympathetic understanding and quiet sense of humor.

It is because of all these qualities that we dedicate this book to Miss Margaret Newhall, a never-ending source of inspiration to all who know her.

To those who knew him, and to those who did not—his influence as a friend and musician will not be forgotten. Here was a man inspired in spirit and mind by music. Serving for many years as the Dean of the Ward-Belmont conservatory, his cheerfulness, ever-winning smile, and understanding thoughts will never be forgotten. His pupils were continually inspired by this great man and his influence was a vital part of every student's experience. His life was dedicated to inspiring music in every phase of his life activities. His thoughts were only of helping and leading those interested in music. His work was not in vain, as his cheerful smile will live in our memories forever, as will that which he inspired—Music.

THE PRESIDENT

DR. ROBERT C. PROVINE

Lighting the Y.W.C.A. Bonfire

One of the most versatile and well-liked persons to be found on a college campus anywhere is Ward-Belmont's own Dr. Provine. In addition to fulfilling his many duties as president of the college, he has contributed a great deal to the intellectual growth of the students through his philosophy classes.

No one has taken a more active interest in campus affairs than has Dr. Provine. He was ever present at functions such as picnics and teas, and was there to cheer us on on class days. We are indeed proud to have such an interesting, intelligent, and well-rounded person as Dr. Provine at the head of our beloved school.

DEAN OF WOMEN

MISS MARTHA ORDWAY

A visit to the Mid dance

A picture of kindness, courtesy, and amiability was Miss Martha Ordway during her fourth year as Dean of Women. Whether presiding over a Tuesday morning chapel, a formal dinner, or a council with a student, she remained gracious and charming always.

Her friendly advice, available to each and every young woman, made her the more loved by "her" girls. Everyone on campus had a soft spot in her heart for our respected and admired dean. This wise and generous woman has made life at Ward-Belmont a pleasant occupation.

PRINCIPAL OF THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL

MRS. SUSAN S. SOUBY

For the past five years Mrs. Souby has been the very efficient and capable head of the Preparatory School. Her understanding of the students' problems and her kindly advice have endeared her to the college girls as well as to her own high school students. Around the campus she is known by her friendly smile and cheerful face. Loved and respected by all the girls, Mrs. Souby has become an integral part of Ward-Belmont.

DEAN CHILES VAN ANTWERP

Dean Chiles Van Antwerp is the one to whom we turn for the answer to our many problems. His adequate help is always given with a most cordial smile. All the students of Ward-Belmont cherish the scholastic standards promoted through the efforts of Dean Van Antwerp. He not only gives attention to the academic program, but he is also interested in each girl's extracurricular activities. His earnest endeavor in everything he has undertaken at Ward-Belmont will be long remembered.

CHAIRMAN OF THE MUSIC FACULTY

Although Mr. Riggs has been the head of the department for only the past year, he has been with Ward-Belmont for twenty years, serving as President of the faculty club for the past two years. The music students have always felt that they have been capably led. Mr. Riggs is always ready to help the music students with their many problems with supreme authority and understanding. The music department has also felt that Mr. Riggs has been very much responsible for the success of the past year. Anyone who has known this great teacher would immediately see why the W-B conservatory is the great institution of inspiration and learning that it is today.

MISS MABLE FLETCHER

Our own Miss Fletcher, wearing her ever-present warm and friendly smile, bids you welcome as you enter her office. From this charming lady the new girls, applying to enroll at Ward-Belmont, receive most cordial letters of welcome. She introduces to everyone the dear Alma Mater of so many gracious women. It is indeed a privilege and a pleasure to have Miss Fletcher affiliated with our ever-beloved Ward-Belmont.

R E G I S T R A R

ALUMNAE SECRETARY

MISS MARY ANN MOORE

Last year Miss Moore returned to Ward-Belmont to assume the duties of Alumnae Secretary. Big plans to reactivate the alumnae program and organize a National Ward-Belmont Alumnae Association are in the making under the guidance of this enthusiastic Ward-Belmont graduate. It will be through the constant work and effort of this attractive alumna that the students will be in touch with each other after they leave the Ward-Belmont campus.

MR. VERNON M. NELSON

Webster defines a manager as "a person who conducts business or household affairs with economy." This definition may have pictured the manager of Webster's day, but it is too narrow to fully describe Ward Belmont's business manager. Mr. Nelson is as famous for his genuine warmth and understanding as he is for his efficiency. Every problem, whether large or small, receives his whole-hearted thought and consideration. To each of us Mr. Nelson is an indispensable part of Ward-Belmont.

ACTIVITIES

Art Club Chooses Picture of Month

Joseph Van Sickle, head of the Ward-Belmont art department has announced the winner of this month's Masterpiece of the Month award. The competition, which is sponsored by the department and by the Art Club, of which Marilyn Boehme is the president, is open to all students of the department. This month's winning painting is an abstraction by Joyce Lusgarden. Joyce is a member of the Osiron Club, and her home is in Wilmette, Illinois. Her painting is a study in oils which she did as a part of her class work. Joyce is a second year certificate student in the art department, and her teacher is Mr. Van Sickle.

Science Students Organize Club

The Chemistry Club held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday night, October 25, in the analytical lab. Officers for the coming year were elected.

Betty Hamilton, Agora, will serve as president; Rudledge Ingram, Antipan, is vice-president; Betsy Markley, A.K., is the new secretary; and Betty Jo Dowdle, X.L., will assume the duties of treasurer. The club is under the sponsorship of Professor G. A. Winstead, head of the Chemistry department.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. L. D. Mathias and Mrs. M. R. Boyd.

The newly-elected members of the Chemistry Club, who were chosen from the general chemistry classes, include Jackie Bumpous, Diana Dutton, Betty Jo Dowdle, Rudledge Ingram, Betsy Markley, Rachelle Mendlovitz, Kay Ogilvie, Marilyn Perkins, and Virginia Woodson. Kay Brennan and Lucy Ward are the high school representatives. The advanced chemistry students automatically became members of the club.

Y.W.C.A. Sponsors Chapel Speaker

Miss Sonia Grodka, traveling secretary of the World Student Service Fund, will speak in our assembly Tuesday, November 1. She will meet students interested in W.S.S.F. October 29 and November 2. She is also to visit other Nashville campuses.

Miss Grodka, who has herself been a war refugee, is a native of Germany. She left there with her family in 1937, living for a year in France and in Czechoslovakia. Coming to Scandinavian countries, Holland, Belgium before coming to Grodka's activities have included work with audio-visual foundations, New York and California, the Program Department, YMCA in San Francisco, continuing study of the principles of democracy, and most recently, participation in an International Service sponsored by the American Service Committee.

Phi Theta Kappa Plans Activities for Year

The first meeting of Phi Theta Kappa was called to order on Tuesday night, October 18, by Rachelle Mendlovitz, president.

Plans for the ensuing year were discussed, and it was decided that the initiation committee would be composed of the officers of the organization. The annual tapping service will be held sometime after the first quarter, and definite plans were formulated for both the pledging and the formal initiation ceremonies.

Ann Piagon was elected reporter to The Golden Key, the national Phi Theta Kappa magazine, which is a quarterly publication. Sue Giles was chosen to serve as chairman. Members of the program committee, and members of the committee include Ann Pingon and Martha Houston Reid. This committee is in charge of obtaining speakers for the chapel programs sponsored by the organization.

The meeting was adjourned until November 15, when a social will be held at the home of Dean and Mrs. Chiles Van Antwerp.

the president, cabinet, and hall officers, all elected by the students.

The C.G.O. was responsible for seeing that the traditions and rules were recognized. The C.G.O. was also responsible for the many privileges which the student body enjoyed.

Elizabeth Mitchell as president very ably led the student body throughout the year, and the C.G.O. has been an outstanding factor behind

W-B's having such a well-organized and cooperative student body.

Working closely with the C.G.O. was the Presidents' Cabinet, composed of the leaders of the most important campus organizations. The Presidents' Cabinet was responsible for the many social activities which enriched life at W-B.

The C.G.O. and Presidents' Cabinet strove to induce harmony between the student body and the administration.

The Prep Boarding Council is one of the outstanding departments of the High School. Under the capable leadership of the officers this organization has maintained its standards of strict but efficient government. In addition to fulfilling the necessary duties, the Prep Boarding Council has done much to promote a spirit of friendliness and cooperation among all the Prep girls. The High School should well be proud of its council.

The College Day Council was the nucleus, the core about which the life of each day student revolved. The C.G.O. and the Day Council have worked together to unite the student body in a plan of harmonious living and complete cooperation. This council, the C.G.O., and the administration made the finished and perfect whole. From the moment each day student stepped on Ward-Belmont's campus at orientation, she felt that Ward-Belmont was her school because of this active and well-organized group.

White candles, squeals of delight, smiles, and solemn pledges marked the tense but thrilling tapping service of the Delta Xi chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. This formal pledge service was followed by an even more impressive formal initiation.

The lights burned long in the Phi Theta's own study room while they were compiling information for "Who's Where"—the W-B directory of students, faculty, and staff.

The Wordsmith Club, newly reorganized this year, has proven both valuable and interesting to college students with a knack for writing. The members submit their own writings to the club and are able to receive a varied viewpoint and correct their mistakes. Several speakers addressed the club this year and in this way the club members were able to hear from real writers and about them. Membership is by invitation after the girls have shown their interest and ability through their English courses.

"Tuesday night comes but once a week, or we'd all be dead!" This statement, laughingly made, has been the motto of the "Hyphen" staff this year. But in spite of the gripes which flowed freely for twenty-nine editions, it was with real regret that they wrote "Thirty" on the last edition.

Editing, counting inches, correcting, and copy-reading were only a few of the many tasks which the energetic staff faithfully pursued each week to put out the "Hyphen." It was because of their unceasing efforts and the skill and ingenuity of the editor that the "Hyphen" was what it was this year... a complete review of Ward Belmont life.

Monday night is "Chimes" night. And from Day Student homes to College dorms, clutching blunt pencils, come the girls who read, edit, correct, approve and reread the manuscripts that are to make the next issue. They sit around the Pub Office desk firing questions about synonyms and spelling corrections, proper punctuation and who has a nickel for a coke?

For an hour, two hours, three—time bothers them not—they tilt back various chairs or sprawl over several tables and work! But, although "Chimes" is a bundle of work and concentrated effort, it is also a bag full of fun and laughs. And to the girls who work on its staff, to the girls who make "Chimes" one of the organs of campus thought that it is, to these girls there is no place like the Pub Office on a "Chimes" night.

When Thursday night rolls around, there is not a livelier place on campus than the pub office. For there are gathered the members of the "Milestones" staff to read over writeups, type, sort pictures, and do numerous other jobs essential to the constructing of a yearbook.

The staff consisted this year of Seniors, Mids, and High School girls who represented almost every organization and club on campus. Into this book have gone the ideas of this very representative group, and we believe that we have presented for you a complete and true picture of Ward-Belmont life.

BETTY LEE SIMMS
President of the College Y.W.C.A.

The Y.W.C.A., a national association, was strongly supported by the Ward-Belmont division. As in preceding years, the Y.W.C.A. made a success of everything it sponsored during the year.

The agenda for '49-'50 included visits to the Old Ladies' Home, the Orphanage, and the Crippled Children's Home; unforgettable Vesper Services; and the annual King and Queen of Hearts banquet.

The organization made a special effort to include the entire student body in Y.W.C.A. activities. They divided the association into three commissions: World Service, Community Service, and Worship Service. Much spiritual guidance was obtained through the efforts of the Y.W.C.A.

Throughout the school year the members of the Prep School "Y" have worked wholeheartedly on "Y" projects. Their visits to the Orphanage and Crippled Children's Home were greatly appreciated, and all agree that the girls seriously tried to carry out the promotion of better Christian lives.

Great interest was shown in "Y" dinners and discussions, and the Sunday night vespers were loved by all. To add to the fun of school life, "Y" parties were given and enjoyed by those who attended.

This work was carried out under the capable guidance of Phoebe Monteith, the president, and one can truthfully say that the Prep School "Y" continues to be one of the greatest forces on the W-B campus.

Throughout the year the A.A. has done much to promote skill, sportsmanship, friendship, and activity through the presentation of an active program designed to give each girl a definite place in the well-rounded sports program of W-B. Following each season an exciting chapel program was held, in which the cups were presented to the winning clubs and recognition was given to outstanding players. Each student is a member of the A.A., but to become a member of the governing board a girl must win a varsity letter or three club letters.

Through an active cabinet and under the excellent guidance of Liz Cooley, this has been one of the best years the A.A. has ever known.

Through meetings conducted in French and "Care" packages sent to France, the members proved that they felt a true understanding of both the language and the people. The annual banquet in the spring not only brought to a close a year of enthusiasm and interest but further promoted the feeling of good-will and fellowship with France in the hearts of all the students.

Under the wise guidance of its advisors, Le Cercle Francais worked as a unit on many fascinating projects throughout the year. The French Club took an active part in advancing a closer understanding of the French people by showing their customs and culture. One of the most outstanding contributions which the French Club made consisted of preparing and sending a large package of necessary articles to needy people in Europe.

Every member of the French Club showed enthusiasm and interest in all the activities of the year. The speakers and various programs gave the members many enjoyable pictures of France and the French people.

Membership in the Beta Club, or Ward-Belmont Honor Society, is a coveted honor confined mostly to high school Seniors. The members are chosen for their scholarship, attitude, and citizenship. It is indeed an honor to be chosen for membership in this organization, since only the top students in the Preparatory School are admitted.

The club participated in many worth-while projects throughout the year. A party at the end of the term proved that a scholar's life is not all work and no play.

Composed of a small select group, the German Club has succeeded in stimulating a deep interest toward the Germanic culture. Becoming more fluent in this language, the members also studied the manners and customs of the German people, who have contributed so much to the world's heritage.

Active in all campus affairs, the German Club, led by the vitally interested sponsor, Dr. Givens, contributed their part toward the W.S.S.F. Drive. Several German movies offered an opportunity for the group to apply their accomplishments. Meetings were held once a month in order to promote more harmony among club members.

Deriving a deep understanding from the knowledge of the German mores, along with the ability to converse freely, the German Club gained a more practical approach toward the art of applying their language in future life.

Under the leadership of Mr. Van Sickle and Marilyn Boehme, the Art club had a very successful year. The purpose of the club is to promote a greater interest and appreciation of art among the students outside the classroom. The club officially opened the year with an exhibit in Acklen Hall of the work done by the College students. Throughout the year the club sponsored a contest entitled "Masterpiece of the Month." Each month the winning selection was hung in Middle March. The club also enjoyed several speakers during the year and learned from them a great deal about the finer points of painting and drawing. The year was climaxed by an exhibit of all student work.

CHOIR

Because of their integral part in the Wednesday devotionals and the special musical programs, we will always remember our choir. An important part of the conservatory and, of course, Ward-Belmont, the choir is composed of both Seniors and Mids. In December the choir presented a program of inspirational Christmas music. Their spring program, composed mainly of spirituals and other religious numbers, will live in our memories. Both students and Nashville citizens have found inspiration and enjoyment in the functions of the choir.

Under the enthusiastic direction of Mr. Rose, the Ensemble gave several highly creditable performances during the year. The group consisted of Ward-Belmont students and several other outstanding students from other schools. Stringed instruments—violin, viola, cello, bass, and piano—were used, and classical music made up the repertoire. The performance of several compositions of Bach for the Bach festival was given in May. The Ensemble served as a great source of inspiration to the performers and the audience.

A variety of artists and personalities with musical hobbies were presented. The club's purpose is to promote more interest in all fields of music, and to bring the music students closer together. The club sponsored the Club Sing and presented the Bach Festival. Mrs. Irwin was successful in helping the Music Club to achieve its goal in the promotion of musical interest.

Although the Singers were newly organized this year, their accomplishments were many. The members were a select group of voice majors. They participated in the Christmas program and spring recital and gave several radio broadcasts. The group is a capella and Mr. Dalton is responsible for the many artistic performances given in this manner. This group was certainly a great credit to the conservatory and to the students who participated.

Councilors Are Selected to Serve In Freshmen Halls

Dean Martha Ordway has announced the names of twenty-five Mids who have been invited to stay on during the next school year in the senior-mid dormitories in which they now live. These girls, all of whom have made outstanding records in their halls, will act as councilors for the incoming class next September. They are selected and invited by their hall hostesses and the Dean of Students. In May the students chosen for this honor will form the group from which the officers who will guide the government in the halls that year will be elected. Thus, hall organization will be set up for the new students.

Girls from Hail Hall who were elected for the honor were: Alice Norrish, Jean Holman, Freddie Wheeler, Sara Givens, Lovelyn English, and Nancy Hood.

Fidelity Hall selects were: Rose Luther, Peggy Zook, Alice Jane Hinds, Mary Walsh, Nanetta Wall, Marlene Wyatt, and Jeanne Jacobs.

Those chosen from Founders Hall were: Pat Puigg, Nancy Stewart, Jean Hammond, Marie Cooper, Barbara Beside, LeAnne Spaeth, Joanne Neely, Jodell Sternlinger, Pat Rush, Anna Jean Kirk, Carolyn Stutz, and Leslie Webb.

Dean Martha Ordway and Miss Aene Ordway have invited the group to be their guests at a breakfast to be given at their home near the campus on Sunday, March 5.

ATTENTION MIDS

All members of the Senior-Mid class are urged to submit short stories to the editor of CHIMES before the close of the contest on October 31. There are no requirements as to length or number to be submitted. Mid members for the staff are being considered for on the amount and quality of work being handed in. The winners of the contest will be announced in assembly and the winning short story will be published in the first issue of CHIMES.

"IN THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE, LIVE." With such an inspiring motto, the Senior Class of 1950 went on to write a page of unparalleled glory in the annals of Ward-Belmont.

At the beginning of Orientation Week the Seniors returned to welcome the new girls to W-B and to show them the way to become a part of the happiness to be found here. At the Senior tea the girls graciously greeted both faculty and Mids.

With the first Senior-Senior-Mid Day the colors gold and white showed their supremacy. Spirit was shown on every side. This spirit carried throughout the whole year as the Seniors went on from victory to victory.

The Seniors showed their capabilities by winning every athletic event from hockey to basketball and tennis. They worked untiringly on the challenge, gave the coke party for the Mids, danced the Minuet, reigned supreme at May Day, and proved themselves equal to every task. These Seniors, who wanted above all to have their class be "tops" in every way, realized their dream in 1950.

The Seniors have shown through friendship, honor, and sincerity that these have been the best years of their lives. They have challenged the Mids to carry on the memories and glory of the Senior Class.

The Seniors have left their imprint on W-B life and will long cherish memories of this, their school.

Yes, "IN THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE, LIVE." This they have done.

| KATIE STACKHOUSE | Sergeant-at-arms |
| MISS FESSEY | Sponsor |
| MISS CARROLL | Sponsor |

M stands for memories, the memories each Mid has of her first encounter with the busy, eventful life of a W-B Belle. It was at the Mid party in the gym that the Mids began to become acquainted with their own classmates; it was in the clubs during a hectic rush week that Seniors and Mids became one in a friendship, loyalty and love that will last forever.

I stands for integrity, the integrity with which the Mids meet themselves and each other, for the integrity with which they meet their school obligations in the classroom and on the campus in their extracurricular activities.

D stands for determination, the determination with which the Mids entered every Senior-Senior Mid Day event; in carrying the Purple and White to victory. Although they did not get into the win column, they prided themselves not in never failing, but in rising again every time they fell.

S stands for sincerity, the sincerity with which the Mids have accepted their responsibilities as Seniors. The Mids, with tears in their eyes, say goodbye to their beloved big sisters and look forward to an even more marvelous year at Ward-Belmont than they have witnessed.

Miss Ruth Carroll, Sponsor; Rosemary Logan, President; and

Seniors, the word that brings a lump to everyone's throat. From the day when they were formally acknowledged the Senior Prep Class of 1950 until the last minutes of graduation, the Seniors strove to carry out their aims and goals.

Here's to the Seniors, who were joyously victorious over the Juniors, who worked with fervor and anticipation for their Senior Prom, and who justly earned the right to walk down the aisle carrying red roses.

The Seniors, who helped the underclassmen through the mighty surge of rush week and the bustle of orientation. Their guidance and spirit continued from the first bright morning of Ward-Belmont life until the last strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" died away.

Their bright blue Senior caps dotted the campus with spots of color and the last echoes of their Senior song can still be heard in the smokers of Heron and North Front.

The Senior Prep class of 1950 will long be remembered for their enduring vitality and courageous spirit. This same wonderful spirit which drove them, victorious, through this year, will indeed aid them for the rest of their lives.

The Prep Underclassmen . . . the girls who are growing up to be the future Seniors and college girls. Their efforts and aims have made and are making our school great. Although a minority group, they have shown the same wonderful spirit that carried the Seniors onward throughout this year, and we must never forget that these three, the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior years, are perhaps the most important in the building of aims and ideals which follow throughout life.

Schedules

Rumors are flying that the Mids are really looking forward to the future. At least as far as basketball manager PAT NEBLETT is concerned. From what we hear, she is scouting around in a very business-like manner for prospective members of the Mid six when the day of the Senior-Senior Mid Day comes.

According to Mid athletes, manager DIANE DOERTON, the little Middies plan to give the Seniors a game. That is, if they can ever decide on a team.

Time Will Tell

Well, it's anybody's guess as to who is going to triumph, but it should be pretty keen competition on both sides. There are some rather talented Mids but the Seniors do pretty well themselves. After all they almost beat the Seniors last year. And what is a game?

The ceded teams have been announced for the club tourney which begins February 24. One of the lucky teams is Agora, our last year champs, who seem to have a pretty good chance for victory again this year. BETTY SPAIN is one of Agora's best and can be counted on to bring home the points. Guard ABIE ALEXANDER is another one that Agora is proud to claim. Both of these girls played well last year and should do even better this year. Of course, there is CAROYLN BRADY, not only the president of this fair group, but as one of its outstanding athletes as well.

Hooper Six

Tr-K is ceded, too, in a successful series of games. One of Tr-K's mainstays is CHERRY KELLY, who is a fine gal on the court and one it is hard to keep the ball away from. ANN

LEWIS may be little, but just try keeping up with her. It will be easy to see that she is one of the more obvious reasons why this team was ranked among the top.

Osiron came through this year to be rated among the top three. They are proud to claim GINA (SPROUT) CAMPBELL, who, it seems, has little or no trouble marking up the score for her team. Supporting her on the side of the goal is "DOC" MAY who is quick, sure, and somebody to be feared by her opponents. SUE MILLER is one of the best of the guards who will wear the green and white when tournament time comes. Those who played against Sue last year will know that making any points against Osiron won't be easy.

Onward XL

There are some teams that were not ceded but who show fine promise and might bring about an upset in the finals. One of these is XL who always puts up a good fight in most any of the sports. ANN ROLAND and PEG MC TYRE are a couple of which XL is justly proud. Then there is MARTHA HOUSTON REID, who was mighty good in hockey and who continues to show her athletic ability on the basketball court.

Penta Tau has some possibilities. CILE ROBERTSON is a good guard and will be working hard to bring her team on to glory. CHARLOTTE SCHULZ tries mighty hard, too, and these girls should help their team provide some exciting moments during the tournament.

Opening Performance
Is Given Tonight.

The Naiades Club will present its annual water carnival on March 3 and 4 at the Ward-Belmont swimming pool. The theme of the program will be "This Is Our Music." Eight formations illustrating the music of contemporary America will make up the water ballet.

The first formation will be given to Shanties on Tenth Avenue and will carry out the mood of sophisticated city life.

Nero music will form the background for the second part of the program. Trampin' and I've Got Shoes will be the selections used.

Music of the simple, country folk will be featured in the third part of the ballet, with Flop Eared Mule as the background music.

Blairie's mirlanchandy will be the theme of the third formation. Albert's Black will be the musical selection.

It's the time of Leisure an element of foreign music will be introduced featuring "idyllic, melodic rhythms."

Every team was more than enthusiastic as they played their games on the hockey field. Spirit was high as the girls cheered "their team" on to the goal; and, win or lose, sportsmanship was at its best. Excitement lasted 'til the last minutes of the final game. Penta Tau and Anti-Pan both won two games and tied one. The final contest was held between Agora and Tri K, both of whom had won their previous three games. Agora won, 1-0, which entitled them to the much-coveted hockey cup. As this was the third consecutive season they had won the cup, they were entitled to keep it permanently.

A vote of thanks goes to each girl who participated on the hockey field, the club managers, and the P. E. teachers, all of whom spent their time and efforts to make the '49 hockey season so fine.

From the rumble and crash of the first strike to the excitement of the final frame, the bowling season was a big success. Competition was strong, and the finals proved to be both tense and exciting.

Marion Russell and the rest of their consistently high scoring team brought the bowling cup to the F.F. Club this year. Several other clubs ranked close behind F.F. in the final tabulation. Combining power and perfection, Dot Carroll sparked the A.K.'s and was the season's individual high scorer. T.C. proudly claimed Ann Hartman and Penta Tau boasted Kitty Pankey as integral parts of their teams.

In the final tournament of the season, between the Seniors and the Mids, the Seniors nosed out the Mids in a momentous finale to a wonderful term of bowling.

This season again brought many girls to the tennis courts. Agora and Eccowasin were the winners of the hard-fought battles for the cups. The Prep finals were played off between Blanche Davis and Norma Davis, Blanche being the winner. Two other girls competing in the tournament, Lillian Dobson and Emily Fletcher, along with the two finalists, won places on the Prep varsity.

In the College division, Charlotte Schulz and Jan Arthur played for the title with Jan coming out on top. Caroline Ellis and Betty Spain completed the College varsity.

The basketball season this year was full of enthusiasm and good sportsmanship. All teams showed up remarkably well; however, due to many upsets, only one team, Agora, came through undefeated, eliminating the need of a final game. Agora won the cup for the second consecutive year.

Although the Agoras came out victorious, the cup was closely contended by several other teams—Tri K, AK, XL, and Osiron—who won two games each. Fair play was the byword during the '50 basketball season, and everyone who participated in this sport felt the spirit of friendly competition that was present at all games and practices.

Perfection

Thundering applause ended the final scene of the annual Naiades show, "This Is Our Music." This show, surpassing those of previous years, was a wonderful example of hard work and talent. Inspired by Miss Carroll, the Naiades performed perfectly intricate patterns in the water. Various types of American music were interpreted by the club members, and an interesting colorful production resulted.

At the swimming meet, stiff competition among outstanding W-B swimmers such as Carol Loeb, Hazel Maxwell, Jane Lucke, and Lillian Cornelius was exhibited. Agora emerged triumphant.

Whether it's a graceful ballerina, an exotic Spanish dancer, or a modern dancer that one enjoys seeing, she will find them all performing under the skillful guidance of Miss Ellen Jane Anderson. Dancing adds an extra touch of color and festivity to May Day and George Washington's birthday.

"The Wizard of Oz" was depicted in the annual recital and was both amusing and artistic. Enjoyed and appreciated by all were the skaters in their gay and colorful costumes.

From the rhythmical clicking of the tap steps to the serene beauty of a toe dance, the students artistically created a lovely picture.

ARCHERY

Have an arrow!

Zing! The arrows flew through the air, and as the archery students watched them hit the gold circle of the many-colored target, they realized that their long, hard hours of practice had not been in vain. As simple as it may look, archery is not an easy sport, and it takes time and work to reach proficiency with the bow and arrow. Throughout the Spring season the girls worked hard on the six main steps of archery, and they spent many lessons correcting their stance and aim. But at last, as they saw their arrow hit the target perfectly, they realized that their time had been well spent, and that archery was lots of fun.

On chilly fall days and sunny spring days one sees W-B golfers enthusiastically select their proper clubs and advance to the open field. Position, aim, and—oh, well, the beginners shouldn't be expected to hit such a small ball right at first. One soon learns that it takes practice and patience to learn how to play golf.

The advanced classes find that their efforts have been well worth while, because they then practice on the golf course of the Country Club. After mastering the co-ordination and skill of the game, these girls can enjoy this leading sport for many years.

Social Clubs Select Remaining Officers

Senior-Mids Preps Commerce Duties

The ten campus social clubs held recent elections to complete their roster of officers. Most of these clubs elect new members of the Ward-Belmont student body from both the senior and class in college and the various classes in the preparatory school.

Agora has chosen for its new secretary Nicky Walls. Mary Walsh is the newly elected sergeant-at-arms. A.K. Club chose a day student vice-president and a sergeant-at-arms. Beverly Smith will fill the former office, and Nadine Eastin, the latter. The new secretary of Anti-Pan is Freddie Jean Wheeler, and Charlotte Armstrong will serve as sergeant-at-arms.

Fannie Flack has been elected secretary of Del Vers.; Louvenia Michell is the club's new sergeant-at-arms. F.F. chose a secretary, Betty Lynn Walters. Co-sergeants-at-arms for Posts Tau are Radley Duvall for Betty Elrod. New day student vice-president of Oisom is Marion Carson, and the secretary is Ann Sory. T.C. selected Nancy Stewart as its new secretary, and Myra Roberson as sergeant-at-arms. Tri K and X.L. also chose sergeants-at-arms. They are Dot Poole for the former and Anne Andrews for the latter.

Led by their efficient president, Carolyn Brady, and their energetic sponsor, Mrs. Harber (better known as "Shannon"), the Agoras have again proved themselves capable of robust rivalry in any field of competition.

The Agoras boast of all their members. Among the most outstanding are Helen Walton, editor of "Chimes"; Betty Spain, sports manager of the Senior class; Jane Swain, president of the Day Student Council; Diane Dorton, sports manager of the Mid class; Hazel Maxwell, Mid cheerleader; Jan Arthur, Chapel proctor and C.G.O. member; and Isabel Pryor, who reigned as Queen of Hearts on St. Valentines Day. The Locke twins were an outstanding asset to the club as was Janet Zerr with her artistic talents.

This year's athletic events will long live in the memory of every Agora, for they excelled in all of them. Besides winning the tennis cup for the third consecutive year, they also carried away the basketball, softball and hockey cups. The club was chock-full of outstanding athletes.

The Agoras added to their list of achievements by winning the 1950 All-Club Sing. It can truly be said that the Agoras are a very versatile group of girls.

Aspirations, knowledge and kindness is the code the A.K. Club followed throughout the year. Guided by their vivacious sponsor, Miss Carroll, and enthusiastic president, Betty Love Brent, they not only successfully gave several dances, but they adopted a needy family. The family was given a Thanksgiving basket and when Christmas came along, the little children were pleasantly surprised with many gifts of toys, clothes and food. Throughout the year the club repeated many acts of kindness towards the grateful family.

The A.K.'s gave their annual Holiday Inn Christmas party for the entire student body.

The A.K. cotton-tails hopped successfully through the school year with Linda Paul being honored with the position of secretary of the A.A. and Ann Phillips as the president of the High School Council. Carolyn Bearden was manager of the hockey team and Dorothy Ann Carroll ably led the basketball team while Maryleen Duncan managed the swimming team.

The cotton-tails ended the school year with satisfaction and happiness that came from the knowledge that they had faithfully followed the code of their beloved club.

The Angkor Club has spent a year of enthusiasm and interest. The weekly meetings were full of both gaiety and seriousness. Under the able guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Fountain, and the efficient leadership of their president, Donia Craig, the members were very successful in all their activities.

The club cheerfully competed in all sports, winning many honors. On the hockey field, Dottie Sensing, Harriet Provine, and Chigger White fought hard and well. In basketball and softball the team was urged on to victory by all the members and by the peppy cheerleaders.

On the scholastic side the club claims five Penstaff members: Harriet Provine, Marilyn McDaniel, Libby Robinson, Kay Russell, and Harriet Anderson.

Passing through Club Village we see club house number one, its French doors open and the strains of "Anti-Pandora to thee ---" echoing through the tower and trees of the village. The full social calendar was made up of a "sock-hop," followed by the formal dance with "Stairway to the Stars" as the theme. The annual orphan's party and faculty tea put the members in the Christmas spirit. The spring formal was another successful social event. Dunbar Cave and Bethany Hills held their old attractions of good times and weekend fun.

Anti-Pan claims with pride such leaders at Rutledge Ingram, Vice-President of C.G.O.; Ann Fisher, Assistant Secretary of C.G.O. and Treasurer of the A.A.; Liz Cooley, President of the A.A.; Dot Hickox, President of Turf and Tanbark; Betty Hightower, Secretary of Phi Theta Kappa and "Hyphen" columnist; Freddie Jean Wheeler, Secretary of the Mid Class; Jackie Bumpous, Editor of the MILESTONES and member of Phi Theta Kappa; Kitty Adams, member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet; Carol Butters, President of the Senior Preps; Sue Hall and Carolyn Tompkins, Mid Cheerleaders and Associate Editors of the MILESTONES; Peggy Scott, Head-cheerleader for the Seniors; and Elise Stephens, Vice-President of the Day Student Council and a Day Student Representative on the A.A.

The Pandas remained unscorched on in hockey this year with two victories and one tie. The girls were enthusiastic participants in all other campus sports.

With the leadership of prexys Helen Seay and Elise Stephens and with Mary Ann Moore as sponsor, the Anti-Pans had a year full of pleasant memories.

Ariston started their year with a glorious triumph over the other day student clubs in hockey. The hard work and spirit of Nancy Pearre, Beth Blackard, Mary Phil Thomas, and Sandy Travis on the athletic field helped to win the hockey cup.

Many members of the club hold important offices around campus. Barry Bennett and Kay Smith both held sophomore class offices, while Amelia Spickard and Susan Moore were elected to help guide the freshman class. During the year club spirit ran high. Cheerleaders Joan Askew, Jane O'Callaghan and Amelia Spickard peped up all the games tremendously and their unusual decorations added to the color and spirit. Mrs. Mann, the sponsor, and Mary Phil Thomas were wonderful and inspiring leaders for the club. Their hard work and the co-operation of the girls made the year very successful.

Nestled cozily in the group of houses in Club Village is number three. Through the open door one sees a circle of girls, hand crossed over hand, and one hears the refrain "Del Vers constantly" drifting across the campus. From this chorus comes the underlying unity that holds the yellow and white high at Ward-Belmont.

During the year the club enjoyed numerous parties, some given for specific groups. An Easter Egg Hunt was given for the Children's Home, and a Farewell Banquet honored the Seniors. There were several memorable dances, and two never-to-be-forgotten weekends.

Del Vers is ably represented in the various campus activities and honorary organizations. Ann Quin and Nancy Doolittle are members of the Y Cabinet. Naiades members are Carol Loeb and Shirley Douglas. The latter is general sports manager of the Athletic Association. Lee George is a member of Phi Theta Kappa. There are six members on the "Hyphen" staff, one member on the "Chimes" staff, and four members on the MILESTONES.

Under the direction of the president, Ann Quin, and Miss Mountfort, who is as enthusiastic a member as any of the girls, Del Vers will be remembered as an outstanding club in 1950.

Each day in the day student club one might see many outstanding girls proudly wearing Eccowasin colors. Among these were: Carolyn Norman, secretary of the Senior Preparatory class and president of the Glee Club; Roberta Suddoth, president of Eccowasin Club, secretary and treasurer of Penstaff and member of the Ward-Belmont Honor Club. The president of the Preparatory Day Student Council was Carney Overall. Lucy Buford, another Eccowasin, was day student Preparatory Proctor for the first semester and was also president of Penstaff. Mildred Jarman held the honor of being day student treasurer of the Junior class.

Eccowasin was outstanding in the field of sports under the able management of Joy Allen. The club won the tennis singles with Blanche and Norma Davis playing each other in the finals. Girls on the Ward-Belmont hockey varsity were, for the first year, Joy Allen and Lucy Buford; and Carney Overall for the second year.

All of the Eccowasins enjoyed helping the underprivileged families by fixing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. Through participation in activities of the club, the girls were united in close fellowship.

"Our paths may sever, but F.F.'s remember forever . . ." This line of the club song recalls the many good times the members have enjoyed together this year . . . the hectic days of rush week, the cozies preceding the games, the fun-packed weekends, the Christmas parties for the members and the underprivileged children, the formal dances and the sweaterhops, and the final dinner for the Seniors.

F.F. proudly boasts of Rachelle Mendlovitz, President of Phi Theta Kappa and of the Speech Club. Beverly Kaplan represented F.F. in the Beta Club, and Nancy Rogers and Winnie Tabb in Phi Theta Kappa. The President of Mu Sigma Phi this year was Jane Ansley. In the athletic department Rusty Russell, as basketball manager of the A.A. board and club sports manager, did an outstanding job, while Jean Sills, Betty Lynn Walter, and Angie George tore up and down the hockey field with a great show of ability. Basketball claimed the enthusiasm of each and every club member, and particularly cheerleaders Shirley Herbert, Joanne Sachs, and Barbara Johnson. Barbara was also a Mid cheerleader.

Carolyn Peckham and Adele Farren showed their qualities of leadership and loyalty as presidents of F.F. Following the marriage of Miss Mueller, much beloved sponsor for several years, her position was filled by the very capable leadership of Miss Thompson.

Throughout the year, the close association of the members made the club dearer to the heart of each and every girl. The year 1949-50 will long be a memorable one of frolics, fun and friendship for which we will always be thankful.

Walking down to Club Village one is sure to find "Seventh Heaven," the home of the Osirons. It is there that you will hear the re-echos of the club song, "Hail to Osiron, within our hearts memories of you" . . .

These memories are of the fun and companionship at the after-game hot chocolate parties, the faculty party, the party given for the T.C.'s, suppers at club, week-ends at Horn Springs, and the formal dances.

Memories also of the outstanding girls who united the club in everlasting friendship. Among these were Peggy Bray, vice-president of the Mid class; Jinx Watters, president of the Choir; Harriet Drumright, vice-president of the Day Student Council; "Sprout" Campbell, business manager of MILESTONES, member of the "Hyphen" staff, and riding manager of the A.A. board; Joanne Buckner, member of the MILESTONES staff and president of Osiron; Ann Sory, member of the Naïades; and Petty Hart, Nancy Harkless, both members of the "Hyphen" staff, and Phi Theta's Lola Daniel, and Bettie Smith.

Versatility in sports certainly was shown by these accomplished girls. Judy Duston, Mary Tolman, and Marianne East were excellent in riding. Outstanding games in tennis were played by Ann Sory and Johnny McLaren. Hockey, basketball, softball, bowling and archery were represented by such versatile girls as Anne Carter, Sue Miller, Doc May, Anita Gavin, Petty Hart, and Nancy Harkless. These girls really helped to put Osiron's name right on top in good sportsmanship in the exciting athletic competitions.

The Osirons will never forget the Wednesday night meetings in which their ever-smiling proxy "Bucky" Buckner presided. There will also be a special place in their hearts for the memories of their ever-popular and loyal sponsor, Polly Fessey.

"Penta Tau . . . days with you we'll ne'er forget" . . .

Days filled with warmth and significance have imbedded themselves in the hearts and memories of the Penta Tau's. These are memories of quiet informal evenings and pep rallies—animated and spirited. Memories recall the Christmas party for the crippled children with Santa, candy, and all the trimmings. There are memories of their charming president, Muriel Williams, and the magnetic enthusiasm of Miss Kelton, the sponsor, who together set an example for the rose and gray.

Days which proved Penta Tau capable of hearty competition in any field of endeavor were the most exciting. In athletics, Charlotte Schultz, sports manager and President of Naïades, was equally respected on the hockey field, tennis and basketball courts. Penta Tau was represented in the Athletic Association with Cile Robertson as Vice-President and Peggy Creagh as bowling manager. Betty Elrod was outstanding on the hockey field, and Marilyn Amato excelled on the basketball court. Penta Tau was proud of Elizabeth Mitchell who held the office of President of C.G.O. and Ann Jones, treasurer of the Senior Class. Mary Henley presided over the Home Economics Club, and the Spanish Club was supported by Sharon Turner as Vice-President, and Betty Ann Blevins as secretary. Gail Grone held the office of secretary of the Speech Club, while Lucy Ward was the capable fire captain of Heron Hall.

Present on the roster of campus publications were Cile Robertson, Ridgely Duvall, Kathy Isaly, Marjorie Shock, Sharon Turner, and Peggy Creagh. The Mid Class had enthusiastic cheerleaders in Betty Shackleford and Virginia Woodson, Shirley Gorham and Sara Givens represented Penta Tau in Phi Theta Kappa.

Athletically, socially, and scholastically the Penta Tau's carried the rose and gray through a year of fame.

In September the new T.C.'s started off the year on Fag Day as little purple and white flowers. After this exciting beginning the club got under way with its many activities of the year.

The first major project was the formal dance held in November. "One Night in Dreamland" was the theme, and fun was had by all. An informal dance was held in January, and it was also a big success.

The club played Santa Claus to the little boys' department of the Industrial Home at a Christmas party given for them. The Christmas banquet and exchange of gifts was also one of the activities of the T.C. Club.

The sports manager for the year was Mary Cantwell, and some of the outstanding athletes were Linda Harrison, Priscilla Hutchinson, Amie Boyd, Myra Roberson, Cherrie Walls, and Ann Draper. Maxey Cooper represented the T.C.'s in Naiades. Ann Hartman and Peggy Skelton were members of Phi Theta Kappa, and Rita Lorino was Vice-President of the Wordsmith Club. Jackie Jackson, as Secretary of Founders Hall, was a member of C.G.O. Prexy Ann Hartman led the Biology Club through a successful year.

Under the direction of their competent president, Jackie Jackson, and their understanding sponsor, Miss Newhall, the T.C.'s had the satisfaction of seeing the fulfillment of a well-rounded program.

With zeal and earnestness the Triads have extended their list of accomplishments to include activities from every corner of Ward-Belmont life. Both their president, Mary Alice Wright, and sponsor, Mrs. Hall, have guided and inspired the Triads toward their goal—success.

Success in athletics was stimulated by Mary Eda Larson, Martha Pierce, Ann McQuiddy, Allison Tidman, and Lacy Phinney. "Penstaff," "Chimes," and "Hyphen" have been supported by Sue Winters, Sally Estes, Martha Pierce, Mary Eda Larson and Ann McQuiddy. Ann is Vice-President of Student Council and treasurer of the Senior Prep class. Sue Winters holds the office of president of the Junior Class.

It is an established fact that the knoll on which the Tri K club house stands is the entrance to good times and lasting friendships. The motto, "Many hands . . . One heart," was exemplified in every task that was attempted. Here the girls worked together as one toward any goal they set, whether in sports or other activities.

Among the celebrities of Tri K are Y.W.C.A. President Betty Lee Simms; French Club President Anne Pingon; Louvenia Neill, a member of the High School Council; Phoebe Monteith, President of the High School "Y"; Sue Mason, President of Hail Hall; and Phi Theta Kappa members Anne Pingon and Sue Mason.

This year, as in preceding years, both Tri K's faculty breakfast and visit to the old ladies' home were great successes. Both old and new girls enjoyed the social activities throughout the year.

Outstanding in athletic activities was Lillian Cornelius, Anne Lewis, Marilyn Brown, Anne Price, and Ann White, who gave the other clubs strong competition in all sports.

The 1949-50 log of Tri K is closed on many lovely memories which will never completely vanish. The Tri K's are indebted to Miss Morrison and Nancy Francis for making these memories possible.

The purple and gold banner of X.L. was seen waving amid many phases of campus life. Holding high these colors was Marilyn Gardner, the versatile president. X.L. proudly claimed several prexes: Martha Houston Reid, President of the Senior Class; the Mid Class President, Rosemary Logan; Agnes Hale, President of the Spanish Club and Vice-President of Phi Theta Kappa; Jeane Gore, President of the Music Club; and Jane Robinson, President of Founders Hall. Joe Ann Jackson was Boarding Treasurer of the Mid Class, while Peggy Rich held the office of Secretary of C.G.O. X.L. was well represented on the "Hyphen" staff with Margie Welch, Editor, and Ellen Kaupke, Associate Editor.

X.L. joined Anti-Pan on their first weekend in the fall at Dunbar Cave, and enjoyed another toward the end of the year at Bethany Hills. The first formal on campus for the year 1949-50 was given by X.L. and a "Blue Champagne" theme was carried out in every detail. During the spring a "Sock-hop" was given and a faculty party was held.

X.L. worked hard this year to keep their club house looking nice. At the first of school everyone noticed the cleverly decorated "Sports Room." Pennants, hockey sticks, and tennis racquets helped to contribute to the atmosphere. Speaking of sports, the club had an average season with Jane Fletcher heading hockey and Ann Roland as basketball manager.

X.L. was fortunate to have such a talented person in the role of sponsor. She is Miss Anderson, better known to the girls as "E. J." As her initials suggest, she is always energetic and full of joy.

Annual Dance Is Given by Seniors

The senior class entertained last Saturday with a formal dance. The theme of the dance, which was Mardi Gras, was carried out in the decorations. The walls of the gymnasium were hung with sparkling cutouts of clowns, musicians, and masks. A false ceiling of transparent celophane supported balloons and confetti which were released during the dance.

The dance was opened with a procession led by senior class president, Martha Houston Reid. Other class officers and members of the decoration committee made up the remainder of the group.

Merry-Go-Round

By SCHULZ

Maybe you all haven't realized it, but we have only seven more weeks ends till Christmas, and only six more editions of the HYPHEN. In other words, you all just have six more times to read this column, and I have only six more times to write it . . . we can both cheer together.

This week at the Bellemade starting Saturday is "Chicken Every Sunday" (it's on the wrong day) with Dan Dailey and Celeste Holmes. This is a real good comedy for those of you who need some boosting. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "The Gal Who Took the West" will be featured. It's a western with Yvonne de Carlo, Cahiles Colburn, and Scott Brady. Then Thursday "San Francisco" with Clarke Gable and Jeanette McDonald. The show is an oldie, but just because it's a re-run doesn't mean it isn't any good. To the contrary . . . it's excellent.

Knickerbocker: If you have a last week's HYPHEN you read about around an ape, Joe Young.

Loew's: Dana Andrews stars in "Sword in the Desert." If you haven't seen enough fighting pictures, this is just the one for you. Sunday "Gone With the Wind" starts. I guess we're all in the same category, but what matters if we see a show six times . . . this one is worth it.

Paramount: Starting Saturday for a week is "Thief's Highway" with Richard Conte. You can guess from the title what the show is about.

At the Belmont this week starting Saturday is "Hills of Home." Tom Drake and Janet Leigh share the leads in this "homie" picture, "Sand" will be on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. The stars are Coleen Gray and Mark Stevens. Wednesday, "Chicken Every Sunday" is playing. This is like a broken record. We've seen the preview of this show just about thirty times. Once again Shakespeare's "Hamlet" comes to Nashville. The show based on this

Annual Announces Snapshot Contest

Jackie Bumpous, editor of the 1949-50 Milestones, has announced its annual snapshot contest which is open to all Ward-Belmont students. The purpose of this competition is to obtain informal pictures for the miscellaneous pages of the annual. All entries are to be dropped in the Milestones box at the head of the west stairs on the first floor of the Academic Building. The snapshots will be judged by the yearbook staff, and a prize will be awarded to the contributor of the winning picture. She will receive recognition in the HYPHEN as well as having her entry printed in the Milestones.

All snapshots should be identified

ORIENTATION

Upon arriving at school, the new girls were greeted by their "big sisters," who were ready with helpful hints and tours of the campus. The many discussion groups and get-acquainted parties helped the new girls to get their bearings and make friendships which lasted throughout the school year. Rush week proved to be a new and exciting experience to all the newcomers. The "new girls" were "old girls" in no time at all.

The excellent orientation program was due to the untiring efforts of all the committee members. Through their planning and cooperation, the new girls soon felt that they, too were an important part of life at Ward-Belmont.

At 6:30 on the morning of September 26, the clanging of alarm clocks could be heard. There was a great turmoil in the dormitories and in a few minutes strangely dressed girls emerged from their rooms.

Zebras, old fashioned girls, sunflowers, rabbits, urchins, pandas, slaves, sun bonnet babies, clowns and owls could be seen roaming sleepily about the campus looking for their big sisters. Soon the little sisters were busy making up beds, writing letters, and doing other odd jobs for the old girls. After eating breakfast on the floor, the pledges went out to the circle where they played games, did calisthenics, and entertained the members until time for class.

Fag Day was taken in good stride, but the following evening presented a different scene. Girls in lovely white dresses entered the candle-lit club houses to take the solemn vows into their clubs.

Yellow and white reigned supreme over the campus the first week of October when the Senior Class of 1950 celebrated Senior Week. The round of events began with the Senior Tea on Sunday afternoon. Then, on Monday, last year's Mids walked down the aisle, each with a yellow rose on her white dress. The class officers presented excerpts from The Prophet which illustrated the theme for the year. After these talks and the presentation on the class creed, Dr. Provine accepted the class of '50.

SENIOR WEEK

The Senior chapel service, with Rachel Mendlovitz as speaker, climaxed a glorious week for the yellow and white. During Senior Week and the rest of the year, the Seniors followed their theme, "In the Time of Your Life, Live!"

Senior faces. Festivities began in chapel on Monday, where the Senior Class of '50 was officially recognized by Dr. Provine and the faculty and students of W-B. In Wednesday devotional Linda Marsh elaborated upon the spiritual aspects of school life and brought to the group the ideals and goals of the class of 1950. The class ended their eventful week with a picnic in the Tea Hole.

Throughout the year the Seniors continued to carry out the theme which Carol Butters and the other officers of the class stressed: Progress.

MIDS STEP OUT

Will you ever be able to forget the wonderful times we have had here at W-B in our fun and fancy free moments? First were the exciting rush parties, where everyone became acquainted. The weekly club meetings, weekends, dances, and the parties for our sister clubs added to the good times we have had. The success of the all-club dance and the Senior and Senior-Mid dances will long live in our memories.

The impressive Senior-Mid banquet and the wonderful picnics, featuring the delicious Southern fried chicken, added to the variety of our daily life.

About Christmas time the servants left their daily duties for a while and entertained us by singing, dancing, and reciting. At that time also were the hall parties, where everyone received a gift from the hall "Santa Claus."

Remember when some of the faculty left the realms of knowledge and entertained us with a skit? And the plays and dancing and music recitals provided us with some interesting evenings.

These good times, as well as the academic studies, have played a very important part in our life on this campus. These moments of fun and fancy free have united us together, and they have formed memories that we shall never forget.

KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS

The Royal Court

All day long, telegrams, flowers, red satin hearts filled with candy, telephone calls, and cards arrived. It was St. Valentine's Day. That evening the candlelighted dining room was decorated with hearts and lace, and the two thrones were conspicuous by their emptiness. Then came the breathless moment. The music heralded the coming of the King and Queen of Hearts and their court. King Betty Jo Dowdle and Queen Isabel Pryor with Prince Olga Nelson and Princess Fanny Gray Frame were entertained by an impressive array of Ward-Belmont's best talent. Thus did the Y.W.C.A. sponsor the festivities which marked February 14, 1950.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

On the twenty-second of February, the students of Ward-Belmont once again celebrated Washington's Birthday. To begin the activities of the evening, the Seniors, dressed in powdered wigs and colonial costumes, descended the stairs in Acklen Hall. As a grand finale to this descent came Rutledge Ingram and Peggy Rich as George and Martha Washington. Peggy and Boo reigned magnificently over the banquet that followed and the program that was held in the gymnasium. This program consisted of a ballet by members of the dance department and the traditional minuet danced by the Seniors.

An Oscar for the Seniors

"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"
"Cheaper by the dozen"

Excitement rose to fever pitch as April 28 drew near. This was the long-awaited day; this was Junior-Senior Prep Day.

The activities started at 2 o'clock sharp with the Juniors' presentation of "All-Star Comics." Each girl portrayed a comic strip character and such personalities as Dick Tracy, Buck Rogers, and Superman intrigued the onlookers. The parade ended with characters from Dogpatch, among whom were Little Abner, Hairless Joe, and the Kigmies.

Following the Juniors' parade came that of the Seniors, which represented the "Academy Award Seniors of the Year." Various groups of girls portrayed movie hits of the year, such as "Hamlet," "Samson and Delilah," and "Cheaper by the Dozen." The grand finale to the parade was the float on which a member of the Senior class, clad in a bronze bathing suit, played the part of the "Oscar."

After these festivities were over there were still thrills in store as the crowds moved on to the tennis courts and the athletic field. The Juniors won the tennis doubles but went down to defeat in the tennis singles, softball, and archery as the Seniors again reigned victorious and took away the coveted cup.

The steps to Peace

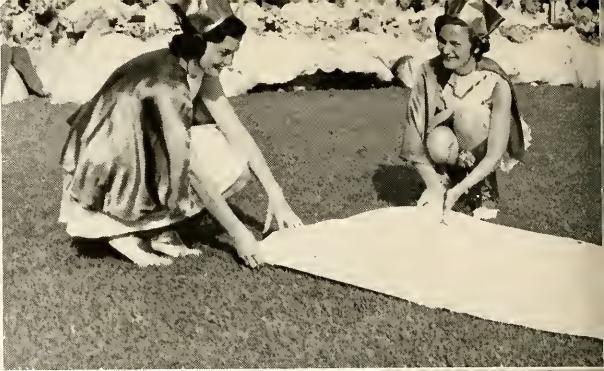

Although Senior-Senior-Mid Day did not begin officially until seven o'clock on April 29, both Seniors and Mids had spent long hours of preparation beforehand. Their planning and working resulted in two of the most impressive parades in years.

The Mids chose, as their theme, "Heroes Who Have Conquered Through Faith." The parade was divided into two sections. The first division, Faith Through the Ages, portrayed such heroes as Noah, King Arthur, Columbus, and Daniel Boone. Division Two, Faith in Our Phases of Life, showed how our faith is shown through our religion, in our homes, in science and industry, in our government, and in education. The final float showed "Faith in Ourselves, the Senior Middles."

The Seniors, in their parade, depicted the various phases of life—the Home, Education, Economics, Politics, Science, and Religion—and showed how, in the past, these things have led to war and destruction. Then, carrying out their year-long theme, "In the Time of Your Life, Live," they showed, through the magnificent final float, how all these things can, during their lifetimes, lead to Peace.

The Seniors made a clean sweep of it by winning the tennis singles and doubles, the archery tournament, and the hotly-contested softball game. The day's events came to a close when the Seniors and the Mids, tired but happy, gathered in Club Village for a fried chicken picnic.

On the afternoon of May 20, hundreds of spectators gathered around the circle to watch W-B's lovely May Pagaent. They watched as the Preparatory Seniors arrived in their beautiful white formals, followed by the College Seniors in flowing pastels. Excitement mounted as the horse-drawn carriages arrived, bringing Queen Kitty Pankey and her attendants, Cherrie Kelly, Peggy Rich, Ann McQuiddy, and Ann White.

After the crowning of the Queen, the Court and spectators enjoyed a varied program of waltzes, modern dance, gymnastics, and specialty numbers. As a fitting close to celebration, the traditional May Pole dance was presented.

A few hours later, the May Day dance for the Seniors brought to a climax the day's festivities.

STEP SINGING

As the chimes rang out on the afternoon of June 4, the Seniors and Mids gathered on the steps of the Academic building to serenade each other in a final farewell before graduation day. As the voices raised in beautiful song, the memories of years spent at beloved Ward-Belmont came flooding back. Neither class would ever forget this beautiful and traditional service which brought to a fitting close the '49-'50 school Year.

"The joys we have here will not fly as the leaves . . ."

GRADUATION

"The Bells of Ward-Belmont,

Oh, hear, they are calling . . . "

As the last strains of this unforgettable song linger hauntingly in our memory we are aware that the Seniors are leaving after two memorable years which were climaxed by graduation.

The Seniors, wearing black cap and gown, walking up the middle walk, through Acklen and into the chapel for the last time as students.

The Seniors, who have embodied the spirit and traditions of Ward-Belmont. They have innumerable memories to keep their lives bright and gay.

Now, we salute you, Seniors, and say, not goodbye, but thanks for the unquenchable spirit that will linger forever. Graduation is here, the end of your journey has been reached and you are leaving to start life anew.

Congratulations, Seniors, and thanks for the ideals, traditions, and inspiration you have left to those who will follow.

"The Bells of Ward-Belmont . . . "

Editor's Note

Now that the MILESTONES has been finished for another year, there should be given a vote of thanks to all those who have made this year's book possible. Without the help of every single one of these, you would not have this book before you now.

First of all, "thank you" to the members of the staff, whose time and efforts have gone into the making of this book. Then to our wonderful sponsor, Miss Polly Fessey, whose original ideas and suggestions have helped immeasurably in putting this book out. "Thank you" also to Mr. W. A. Benson and Mr. Dan Eadie for their unceasing efforts and co-operation in printing the 1950 MILESTONES, and to Mr. Paul Campbell for his splendid engraving which have added so much to our book. And to our photographers, Mr. Bob Grannis and Mr. Henry Schofield, who have captured for us in pictures all our fleeting moments of joy and happiness. And last, but not least, a "thank you" to our advertisers who have helped make this book possible.

All of these people have worked together to preserve for you a year at Ward-Belmont. It is they who should receive the credit for this, your scrapbook of memories.
